Ossining High School Named GRAMMY Signature School Finalist

OSSINING, N.Y. — Ossining High School was honored last month by being named a GRAMMY Signature School finalist by the GRAMMY in the Schools Foundation. The GRAMMY Foundation recognizes top public schools nationwide each year that are making an outstanding commitment to music education during an academic school year. Award winners are determined by a panel of top music educators and professionals. The GRAMMY Signature Schools program highlights schools across the country dedicated to offering exemplary music programs. Each Signature School prize recipient receives a custom award as well as a monetary grant. The winners will be announced in the spring.

The Ossining Union Free School District, nationally recognized for its mission to further the success of all children, serves approximately 4,200 pupils in six schools: Roosevelt School for newborn to four-year-olds, Park Early Childhood Center for kindergarten through first grade, Brookside School for grades two and three, Claremont School for grades four and five, Anne M. Dorner Middle School for grades six through eight, and Ossining High School for grades nine through 12. [January 2008]
